

Hey there!

You go to a school that works with Inläsningstjänst, which means that you have access to Native Language Study Support. This means that you can listen to accompanying tutorial material for each part of the textbook in your native language. You can also listen to the text in Swedish. Native Language Study Support can help you quickly achieve the same knowledge as your classmates.

Native Language Study Support is more than just translations - it is native language educational material in audiobook format. By listening to the learning material in your native language, you will understand the text faster. When you have an understanding for the text, it will be easier for you to grasp the content, and your possibilities to learn will grow! You will also learn Swedish concepts at the same time as strengthening your grasp of your native language. Take advantage of this possibility!

Listen

You can listen at www.inlasningstjanst.se or via the Inläsningstjänst app. Download the app for free from the App Store or Google Play. Once you are logged in, you can search for learning material in the library and add them to your bookshelf, where you then listen to them. You can also change the playback speed and create bookmarks with your own notes and ideas.

Let your teacher know if you don't have login details.

Language is the key
